

SUPPORT TESTIMONY - BABY BONDS - Manuel Santamaria AB67

My name is Manuel Santamaria, and while I am speaking here today as a representative of Battle Born Progress speaking in support of AB67, I am also here as a father of three who, like all parents, wants the very best for our children. Every baby born in Nevada deserves a fair shot at a bright future, no matter their family's financial situation. But for too many, the obstacles of poverty begin at birth, limiting opportunities before they even take their first steps.

This bill is about giving our most vulnerable children a fighting chance. By setting aside $3,200 for each eligible child, we are planting a seed for their future—one that can grow into education, stable housing, or the chance to build something of their own. It's more than just money; it's hope, security, and the promise that no child will be left behind simply because of the circumstances of their birth.

As parents, we teach our children to dream big. Let's ensure they have the tools to turn those dreams into reality. I urge you to support this bill and invest in a future where every Nevada child has the chance to thrive.
