Campaign Legal Center supports AB 148 because ensuring that voters receive sample ballots before they receive their mail ballots is a sensible policy that provides voters with more time to research candidates and issues. While under current law clerks are only mandated to send sample ballots to registered voters before early voting begins, AB 148 will peg the distribution of sample ballots to occur before the deadline for sending out mail ballots. This approach will facilitate more informed decision-making on the part of voters and enable them to align their votes with their values when they receive their official mail ballots.
